

Released U.S. Man Silent on Experience

By THOMAS M. STEWART
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — "I'm working on my book and I hope I'll have a period of quiet after this," says Frederick C. Barghoorn, home from the Soviet Union where he was jailed as a spy.

Arrested Oct. 31 on an espionage charge, the 52-year-old Yale professor was imprisoned in Moscow until Saturday.

Then the Soviet Union, citing the personal concern expressed by President Kennedy, announced it was expelling Barghoorn. He was hustled aboard an airliner and flown to London. Sunday a second flight carried him to New York and a chartered plane brought him to New Haven.

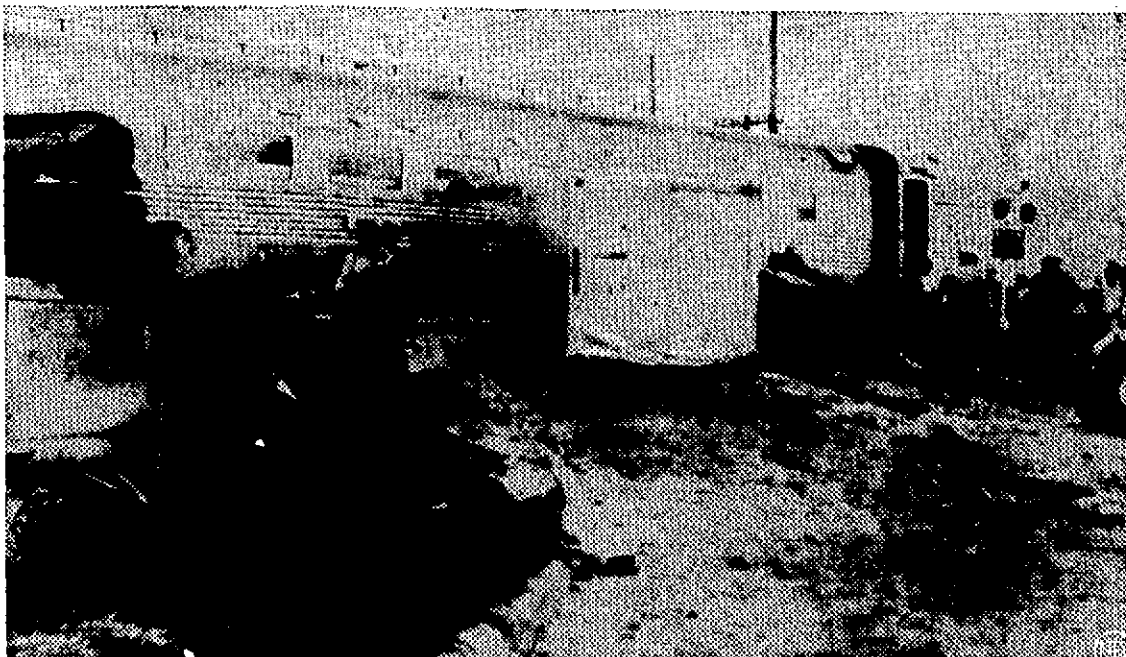

He was taken to the apartment of Mrs. Elizabeth Barghoorn, his 80-year-old mother. Barghoorn, a bachelor, lives next door.

At a news conference Sunday night, Barghoorn read a statement about "my unpleasant experience."

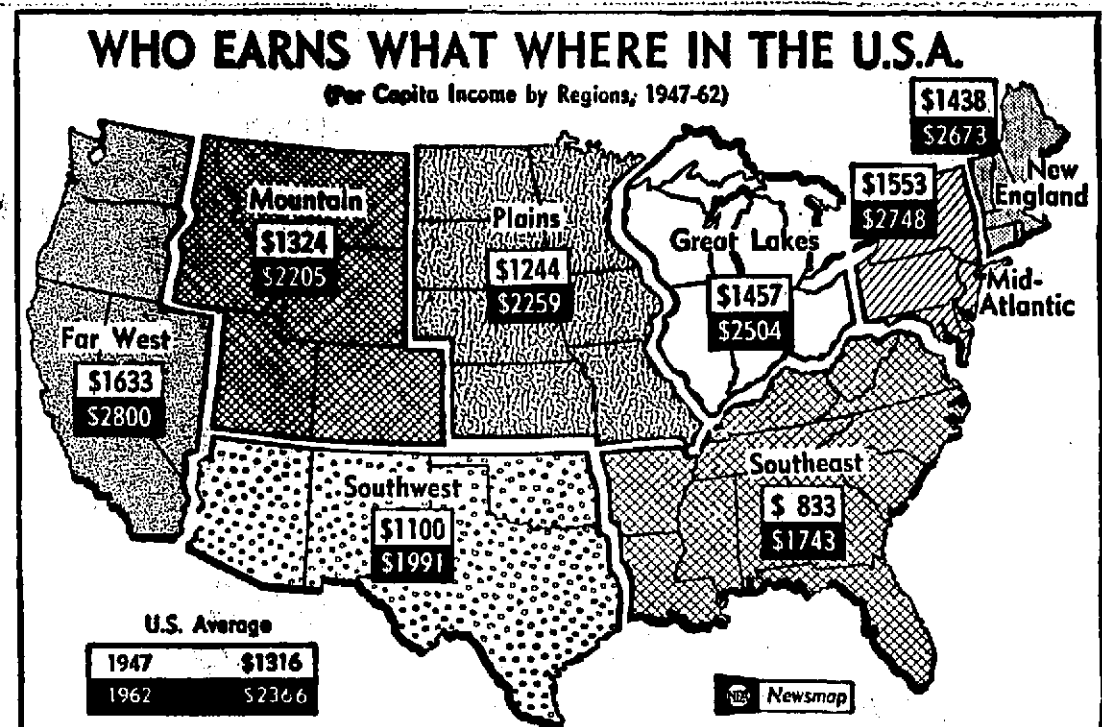

He allowed only a few minutes of questions. He refused to answer, or replied cautiously, to questions about details of his arrest, confinement and release. He said he would withhold a number of details "until I have had an opportunity to fully acquaint myself with the views and information of the appropriate officials in Washington."

The Russians, Barghoorn said, accused him of gathering intelligence during his employment in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in the 1940s and on six trips he has made to the Soviet Union since 1947. Soviet studies are Barghoorn's specialty as a professor of political science. He has written several books on the Soviet Union and was gathering material for another when he was arrested.

The climate of suspicion in Russia is such, he said that "one can be accused of conducting intelligence activity merely."

SHATTERED — A Kansas truck driver was seriously injured in a truck-train crash in southwest Houston, Texas. The truck was so shattered by the impact that pieces struck the car of an expectant mother more than 100 feet away.

PATTERNS OF EMPLOYMENT—More Americans are earning—on the average—more money, no matter what section of the nation is examined. Newsmap, comparing per capita income in 1947 with income in 1962, reveals that the far western states led in both years. Actually, however, the West's lead over the rest of the nation has declined slightly; per capita income is now more evenly distributed, partly because of the migration of many industries. Asks Court to Rule on Sit-in Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court asked the Justice Department today to submit its views on the constitutional issues involved in six pending sit-in cases.

The high tribunal, which heard lengthy arguments last month in the six cases, issued an order in which it invited Solicitor General Archibald Cox to file a new brief.

The cases on which the court heard arguments involved sit-ins in Maryland, South Carolina and Florida. There were two cases from Maryland and two from South Carolina.

The court divided 5-4 on the question of requesting the Justice Department's views on the constitutional issues in the cases.

The dissenters were Justices Black, Clark, Harlan and Chief Justice Warren.

Dear Charles Was Tops in Enjoyment

The identity of Charles was never known in the performance of "Dear Charles," the first presentation of the Hope Community Theater staged last Thursday and Friday in the Hope High School auditorium.

That is because this central character in the cleverly written play was merely the figment of the imagination of Denise Darvel, portrayed by Elaine Petre.

The secret of Charles' non-existence was shared only by Denise's personal maid and her physician, played by Mary Ann Avery and Paul O'Neal. David Pearson, Patty Manus, and Al Weisenberger were the children of Denise, and Ken Daniels, George Peck, Jr., and Lloyd Guerin were their fathers, respectively. Jackie Guerin portrayed the future mother-in-law of two of the Darvels, and her children were played by Donna Ayers and Phil McLarty.

Much credit must be given to Director Kay Leimbacher and her entire production staff for an excellently staged production with an attractive set and good sound effects. Congratulations to the Hope Community Theater on the success of this initial play. Theater-goers can look forward to the second presentation in the spring.

More Likely to Meet Over in Africa Than for Lunch in This Great Big Busy City

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody knows it's such a small world that you're likely to have an unexpected encounter with your old college roommate while on an African safari, 900 miles from civilization.

But try to meet a friend for lunch—on a designated day, at an appointed time, in a special place—and chances are the two of you will never get together.

No matter how carefully I arrange a luncheon date, something goes awry. I'm either at the right place at the wrong time or the wrong place at the right time.

I really thought I had licked the odds, though, the last time I agreed to a friendly get-together. Three of us were in on it, so I figured I had twice as good a chance as usual to make connections.

Arriving a smug 10 minutes early, I took up my stand by an indoor waterfall in a mid-town building, where we had decided to meet at 11:45 a.m. before going to a nearby restaurant.

At 10 minutes to 12 I was still keeping a lonely vigil. Noon arrived—but my friends didn't.

With sudden inspiration I decided to call my husband at his office and inform him that he might be having the pleasure of my company for lunch.

The nearest phones were outside the subway entrance, two flights below. Down I scooted to ask him not to leave until he heard from me again.

Then I went back to my post. At 12:15 I revisited the phone booths to call my friends. No answer at either place. Once more I trudged up to the waterfall for another wait. Finally, I found that my husband was immobilized until further word from me. I wearily descended to the depths again. He gallantly invited his poor abandoned wife to join him for lunch.

When I got home I telephoned one of the no-shows for an explanation, but as soon as she heard my voice she demanded indignantly: "Why didn't you let me know you couldn't make it?"

It seems she had also waited more than half an hour—but in the restaurant instead of by the waterfall. And the third member of our party had called her that morning to say she wasn't able to come.

Well, we're trying it again next week. My husband has already been put on standby alert for that day.

Floyd Green, of Fulton, Dies in Wreck

Floyd Green, 44, of Fulton, was killed Saturday when his car overturned on Highway 70, 10 miles east of Hot Springs.

Two passengers, Hope Kingrey, 29, and W. E. Hicks, 42, both of Little Rock were hospitalized at Hot Springs.

State Police said that Green apparently lost control of the car, went into a ditch on the right side of the road, crossed the highway and overturned on a bridge embankment.

Green was an employee of East Texas Motor Freight Co. for 14 years. Survivors include his father, William L. Green of McNab; two brothers, James of Fulton and Lee Green of Arizona; three sisters, Mrs. America Gathwright of Saratoga, Mrs. Charlene Knight and Mrs. Betty Lou Revels, both of McNab.

Funeral services were to be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Herndon-Cornelius Chapel by Milton Peckles. Burial was in Memory Gardens.

Sit-ins Mostly Plead Innocent at Helena

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Four Negroes pleaded guilty and 15 pleaded innocent in Municipal Court today to charges arising from sit-in demonstrations Saturday.

The four who pleaded guilty were fined $50 each and given suspended jail sentences. Three young demonstrators were placed on probation to their parents.

The hearing continued and Municipal Judge D. S. Heslett was still to hear pleas from 10 other demonstrators, including William Hansen, a white man who has been living in Pine Bluff, and John Bradford, a Negro of Mound Bayou, Miss.

Both are field secretaries for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

A total of 32 persons, most of them high school students, were arrested in sit-ins at two firms. A large but orderly crowd was at the court house for the trial. Only relatives of those charged were allowed in the courtroom.

Several of those arrested were identified as members of the Phillips County Movement of the SNCC.

Police Chief Roy Ross said Hansen and Bradford were charged with threatening a breach of peace in violation of a city statute. Their bonds were set at $100 each.

The other 30, Ross said, were charged with refusing to leave a place of business after being asked by the owner to do so—a state law violation. Ross said their bonds were $50 each.

Ross said the group would appear before Judge D. S. Heslett. City Attorney W. W. Dinning said those who pleaded guilty today would be sentenced and that the presumed trial dates would be set for those who pleaded innocent.

In Atlanta, Ga., SNCC official Julian Bond said the group which staged Saturday's sit-ins would continue until they have completely desegregated every facility in Helena.

Bond termed the arrest of Hansen a violation of Hansen's civil rights. He said he was sure that Hansen's recent marriage to a Negro girl had something to do with his arrest. Hansen married a former Arkansas AM&N student, who now works with the SNCC.

He was in the phone booth talking to me when he was arrested," Bond said.

He said the next move in Helena would be up to the local people of the Phillips County Movement which sponsored Saturday's demonstrations.

Ross said any future demonstrations would be dealt with in the same manner as the one Saturday.

He said most of the Helena Negroes told him that they didn't know what they were getting into when they joined the demonstrations.

He said the demonstrators were given 50 cents each to pay for whatever they bought during the sit-ins.

Dinning said the sit-in group was formed Friday night in front of a Helena theater and leaders were elected at that time.

Bradford appeared to be the leader, Ross added.

Atlantic City Board Walk Fire Leaves 3 Dead and 20 Missing

Not Out to Soak Rich, Says Mr. Kennedy

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Staff Writer

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy, defending his administration against charges of anti-business bias, said today he is not out to soak the rich.

The President said his policies are designed to promote the steady progress of our entire society "and to bring about prosperity in an age of peace and abundance."

In a major address prepared for the Florida Chamber of Commerce, Kennedy gave the most comprehensive reply yet to those who accuse the administration of being anti-business. Kennedy flew to Tampa from Palm Beach aboard his jet transport, landing in bright, 80-degree weather at nearby MacDill Air Force Base. He was welcomed by Gen. Paul D. Adams, commander of the U.S. Strike Command.

Some 1,500 persons — Air Force and Army personnel and their families — watched the President review an honor guard. He walked over to the crowd and spoke for a moment to a group of parochial school children who were accompanied by a Catholic sister.

Kennedy then toured the headquarters of the multi-service Strike Command.

The President, who traveled here at 450 miles an hour, envisioned in still another speech the time when men will fly routinely through space at more than 15,000 miles an hour.

Kennedy's visionary concept of the future of flight was spelled out in a talk prepared for a Tampa ceremony marking the 50th anniversary of the first scheduled air service.

Before returning to Washington late tonight, Kennedy will make five speeches here and at Miami Beach.

The whirlwind schedule marked the beginning of a two-state speaking tour which Kennedy hopes will help him capture the South's most populous states—Florida and Texas—in 1964. Kennedy will fly from Washington to Texas Thursday for a three-day tour.

In his Chamber of Commerce text, Kennedy featured the four questions, I am most frequently asked by members of the business community.

Ticking off his answers, he argued:

The size of the federal government does not endanger the private economy.

Continued budget deficits and the mounting national debt will

Harris Thinks That Congress Should Adjourn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., has defended the 88th Congress as hard working even though the administration's civil rights and tax cut measures will not be acted on in this session.

In a statement to his constituents Harris, chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, said the rights and tax measure disrupted the legislative schedule but, even so Congress had done a great deal of work during the session.

Harris said the two measures were held up because a substantial body of public opinion stands unalterably opposed to them.

Since it is obvious that the two bills will not be acted on in this session, the time has come for Congress to clean up loose ends and go home," Harris said.

He said legislators should pass essential money bills and leave Washington.

Harris called the present session an example of a colossal struggle to maintain the separation of powers provided in the constitution.

Congress has indicated its disapproval of legislation by judicial decree, by administrative directive and by executive order, he continued.

The Arkansas representative said Congress was deadlocked on social and economic lines, not on party lines, as far as the tax and rights bills are concerned.

There is great concern about the nation's ability to afford a tax cut with the size of the national debt," Harris continued, even though a tax cut would directly affect everyone.

He said the rights measure would provide greater opportunity for about 10 per cent of the people while tending to decrease the opportunity for 90 per cent.

Four Hotels, Rooming House Are Destroyed

By TOM SEPPY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Fire swept through a block of hotels and rooming houses near the famed Atlantic City Boardwalk today, killing at least three persons and leaving 20 missing.

Earlier police reports had 25 persons unaccounted for but Capt. Hubert Bourbon said a check of Atlantic City Hospital and persons involved dropped the number to 23. Then three bodies were recovered from the ruins of the Surfside Hotel, where the blaze started.

All the missing had been staying at the Surfside. Police and firemen probed the ruins after the fire was out and newsmen counted three bodies being carried from the debris.

The search continued for more possible victims of the blaze that destroyed five hotel buildings and a rooming house and damaged an apartment building before it was brought under control.

Fire also spread to three other buildings but was quickly extinguished.

Bourbon said police accounts showed 40 persons had been in the Surfside when the blaze broke out shortly after 4 a.m. The Surfside is a kosher establishment catering mainly to elderly Jews.

Seventeen of those in the building escaped, including all three employees on duty, seven guests, and a family that owned the hotel.

Milton Rauer, owner of the Surfside, said 20 of the guests were year-round residents of the hotel and another 10 were there on short vacations from New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

"I'm fearful to say a number did not escape," Rauer said. It went so quickly. A number of them were mostly elderly persons." The building was engulfed in flames in about five minutes, he said.

Atlantic City Hospital said 22 persons were treated there, two of them admitted.

"The night watchman smelled smoke and called me on the switchboard," Rauer said. My first thought was to get my family out. I woke up my wife; she grabbed a dress, and then we woke up our three sons and my mother. We all jumped through a back window about 15 feet to the ground.

In another minute or two the whole building would have collapsed on us."

Rauer said he had heard that about 12 of the guests escaped, but that he saw only four of them.

Mrs. Rauer said 30 guests were registered and all were in the building Sunday night, along with the Rauer family of six and the night watchman, Philip Johnson.

We couldn't get out the front door. We got out through a window in our living quarters," Mrs. Rauer said.

The Rauers and Johnson got out unharmed.

Police said at least five of the 30 guests at the Surfside got out of the building.

A heavy wind from the ocean fanned the flames from the Surfside to seven other buildings on either side of it along Maryland Avenue, which intersects the Boardwalk. Three more buildings on Virginia Avenue behind the burning ones also caught fire but were quickly extinguished.

Louis Levine, an artist who lived across the street from the Surfside said he ran to the hotel and heard screaming death wails. I panicked because the flames were to bright and I couldn't go in."

The fire was about three fourths of a mile north of Convention Hall where the Democratic National Convention will be held next August.

The Surfside was the only hotel or rooming house that had guests, according to Police Sgt. James Mullen, one of the first men on the scene. The others were closed for the winter. Starting at the Boardwalk, the buildings hit by the fire were an apartment building, the Stratmore, Surfside and Leonard hotels, a rooming house, the Imperial Hotel annex and another rooming house.

All four hotels and one rooming house were destroyed. The flames were out of control in the Imperial annex and the second rooming house.

The fire licked at the window frames and sills of the apartment building, but no great damage was reported there.

All the buildings except the apartment house were old-style wooden structures between five and seven stories tall.

Mullen and Police Capt. James Dooney and Patrolman Jack Godowsky were responding to a routine trouble call at the Surfside when they discovered the fire.

There was no sign of anything," as they opened the front door and entered, Dooney said.

Then all of a sudden the place went up," he said.

After the officers brought out five elderly guests, a man and four women, Dooney said:

I heard hollering inside. There's no doubt that there were still some others in the place."

Mullen said the five they rescued all were burned, but not badly.

We don't know how many were in there," said Godowsky. All we heard were people screaming and hollering."

Hundreds of hastily clad spectators milled on the street and Boardwalk.

Many were residents of buildings across the street, where the wind whipped sparks and ashes.

Firemen were constantly on the run to homes where sparks lit.

Police estimated upwards of 200 firemen from Atlantic City and neighboring shore communities fought the fires.

not lead to bankruptcy.

The administration has made cuts in general spending and seeks further economies.

Kennedy policies will not lead to inflation.

The President contrasted his heady futuristic forecast about air travel with the first commercial flight from Tampa to neighboring St. Petersburg in 1914 at a ticket price of $5 a head.

And, looking toward the decades ahead, he said that "with our grasp, is the day when men will routinely fly through space at 25 times the speed of sound."

That would be more than 15,000 miles an hour.

Even by 1975, Kennedy said, "metroplanes" will be able to take off directly from the crowded center of one city and fly to another — even as airliners cross oceans and continents at 400 miles an hour.

The President said that the "pioneering spirit is still burning bright in this state and nation" and that America is ready to venture down a path "through the dark unknown that lies ahead."

Kennedy arranged a busy Florida itinerary, starting with a visit to the headquarters of the strike command at MacDill Air Force Base near Tampa. The President flies from Palm Beach to MacDill in late morning.

Before flying to Washington tonight, Kennedy will make five speeches in Tampa and Miami — one an important foreign policy address at an evening dinner of the Inter-American Press Association.

Thursday, Kennedy will begin a three-day Texas swing that will take him to Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, Austin and the Johnson City ranch of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Both the Florida and Texas trips were labeled "non-political" by the White House. However, the President's heavy speaking schedule left no doubt that the 1964 balloting was much in his mind.

date since 1948. Kennedy lost the state to Republican Richard M. Nixon by 47,000 votes out of 1.5 million in 1960 and he carries Texas by a similarly narrow margin.

Texas has 24 electoral votes and Florida next year will have 14, a boost of four because of population gains.

Kennedy's major address at the Miami Beach dinner of the Inter-American Press Association will focus on Latin American problems. The association represents publishers and editors from all parts of the hemisphere.

Kennedy had hoped to talk privately in Miami Beach with Vice President Carlos Humberto of Argentina, who had considered attending the press association dinner. However, Argentine officials said a possible special session of Parliament would require his presence at home.

by walking down the street — especially if one has hostile intentions against the Soviet state; hostile, that is, in the opinion of the appropriate Soviet authorities."

He denied that the Russians had any basis for accusing him of spying.

They knew he was going to try and determine how public opinion is formed in the Soviet Union, Bargorn said, and could have refused him a visa.

"There are many inexplicable and mysterious aspects of this episode," he said, "I shall probably never know why the Soviet government decided to take an action which by non-Soviet standards was so strange and indeed bizarre."

Barghorn declined to name the prison in which he was held or to tell almost anything about his experiences as a prisoner. But when asked if he underwent much questioning, he replied "all the time."

Asked about psychological or physical pressures used on him, he answered: "I think that within the terms of their system I was well treated."

On the flight to New York Barghorn celebrated with a shot of vodka and some caviar. "I think it all came out for the best," he said during the

Bandits Get Gems Worth $55,000

NEW YORK (AP) — With the city still laughing about Manhattan's comically abortive gem robbery two weeks ago, another masterpiece of jewel theft buffonery took place Sunday.

Unlike the misguided $3 million holdup of Nov. 8 in which the loot was left behind, two bandits escaped with $55,000 in gems Sunday. But the intruders found themselves overrun with hostages.

Toward the end, things got so crowded in the plush East Side apartment of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gurian that the two badmen had all they could do to maintain order.

As a result, Gurian said, the thieves left behind more jewelry than they took.

Police estimated that the jewels left behind are worth $100,000. Gurian estimated his loss at $55,000.

The invaders, one carrying a bouquet as a ruse and the other a gun, collected an elevator operator and a delicatessen deliverman en route to the apartment.

flight. "I greatly appreciate what President Kennedy has done in my behalf, and I definitely do not intend to reveal details.

Mr. and Mrs. Gurian had just settled down to a wedding anniversary breakfast served by their maid. Mrs. Gurian rushed to a telephone and shouted "Help — Help" before it was slammed down by one bandit.

The call brought another elevator operator on the run. He was ushered into the apartment at gunpoint.

Sometime during the rapid-fire activity, the bandits managed to find the gems.

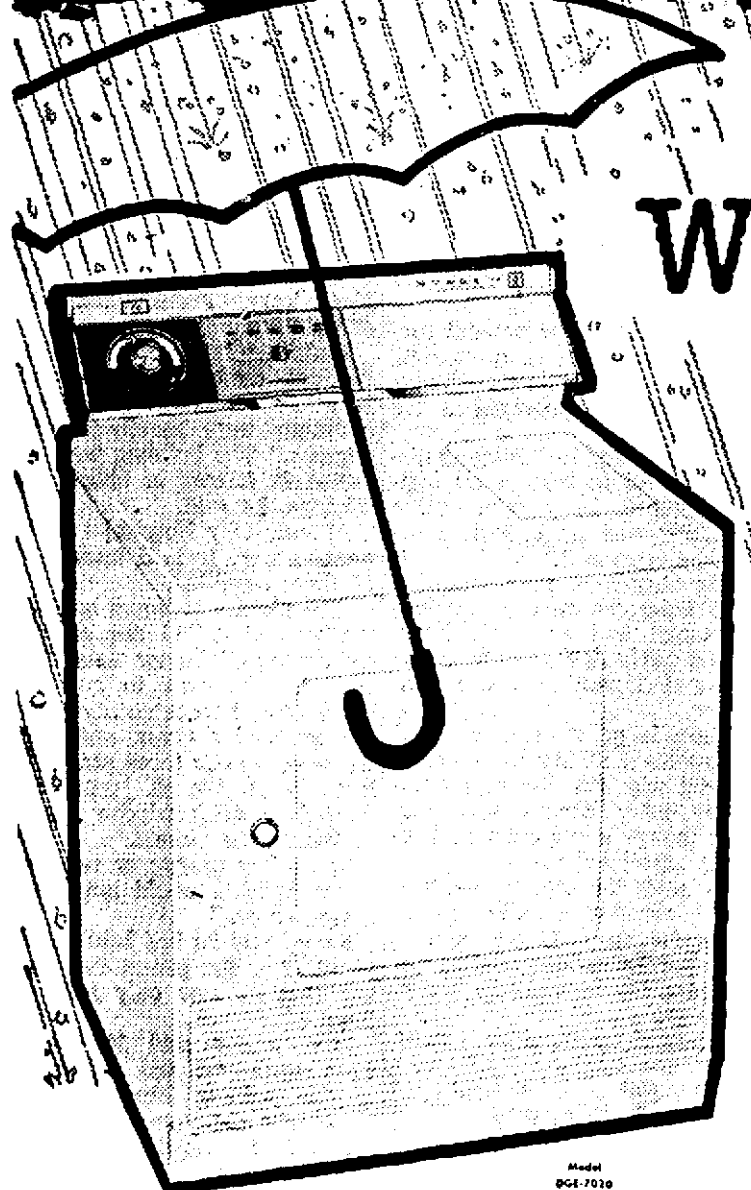

Their foraging was cut short, however, when Mrs. Gurian again broke loose and darted into the hall, the robbers in hot pursuit. They met headon with a doorman, and a brief scuffle ensued before the robbers broke away and scrambled down 12 flights of stairs to the street.

They commandeered a taxicab and forced the driver to take them several blocks away where one debarked. A few blocks beyond, the other robber left the cab. Neither bothered to pay the fare.

Mrs. Gurian, whose husband is a vice president of the Wall Street firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, summed up the episode: It was like a Keystone Kops comedy.

The $3 million gem robbery two weeks ago failed when the driver of the loot car couldn't cope with the old style floor gear shift and abandoned the vehicle and gems.

DOROTHY DIX

WIFE LONG ABUSED; NOW THERE'S OTHER WOMAN

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: Here's a blow-by-blow account of my married life; husband rows because I buy our daughter her first doll; kicked at giving me a paltry $7 to entertain friends who formed our wedding party; kept me on boiled potatoes and stale bread for three days after; asked if I was trying to be a millionaire when I bought our little girl a coat.

I went to work as soon as the children were in their teens. Our walls were black. I hired a man with my own money to paint them. My husband raged. It was the same battle over carfare—my own money. Said I should walk to and from work.

Now, thanks to our new neighbor, a perfect 36, all this is passed and I am satisfied to have it that way. She's a divorcee. After a quarter of a century of hell, three grown children and pinching pennies, this is the climax of my marriage. Why, when I've been faithful, conscientious and kind? I could have two-timed myself but didn't. The man a doctor, loved me. I kept my eyes straight ahead. What reward do I get? It's a cold, hard world. At 52, I don't know when my husband will cut the tie that binds. Any advice?—Dangling

Dear Dangling: Your reward is that at the age of 52: you have lived a full life which includes your children, possible grandchildren, and the knowledge that at each stage you have behaved according to the Golden Rule. It's not really such a cold, hard world. Your neighbor (I assume she's blonde) has had her problems, but she is minus a husband and you still have one. So hang on there, girl, because men and women, for some mysterious reason, need each other. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Keystones of the Home."

Dear Helen: I like a boy my parents dislike for a very good reason but that makes no difference to me. He's going to marry a girl whom he has been dating five years. At one time he and I were more than just friends and, if it weren't for this girl, it could still be that way. I'm heartbroken that they plan to marry but, no matter, I'll wait. Please give me an understanding answer. —Desperate

Dear Desperate: Your heart may be broken now but even hearts can be mended. Playing the waiting game is sometimes the best policy.

Dear Helen: My little sister and I are here as I write, talking about our mother's illness. She's sick in bed with a cold. We both have four times as much to do as when our mother is well. I cook, sister empties the garbage. She won't even make her bed and when I complain, cries hard as she is doing now. Whatever can I do? —Ten-Year-Old

Dear Ten-Year-Old: Let her cry. All the psychiatrists agree that crying is a release for females. When she's cried long enough she'll make her bed, continue emptying the garbage and perhaps even help you with the cooking. You're doing a good job of helping your mother when she needs you, but don't knock yourself out in the process. Your mother needs both her daughters.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hopefield Park Is Proposed

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—The Crittenden County Planning Commission has voted to seek Arkansas' 23rd state park — on the banks of the Mississippi River at historic Hopefield. Judge Milton Beck, who proposed the parksite, told the commission, "Hopefield was one of the early Spanish landings west of the river. It's strictly wilderness, much like it was 200 years ago, and there is very little land like that left in the entire country."

Beck said the Parkway Commission has been interested in working with the National Park

Religion in Germany Splits Schools

By JOHN WEYLAND

BONN, Germany (AP)—Half of West Germany's children are separated in grade school by religion, although parochial schools like those in the United States hardly exist.

There are publicly supported grade schools for Catholic children and publicly supported grade schools for Protestant children. Catholic classes are taught by lay Catholic teachers, and Protestant classes by lay Protestant teachers. Different textbooks are used to reflect the different beliefs.

The other half of the nation's more than five million children attend grade schools together, without regard to their religion.

Each of the 10 states determines its own type of school system. Some provide only separate schools, some only mixed schools, and some a combination of the two systems.

Private grade schools are allowed under special circumstances and are very rare.

The situation is different with high schools. Of these 12 percent are private and mostly denominational, but 70 to 80 percent of their expenses are met by public funds. The rest are state run and completely secular, as are all universities.

Grade schools divided by religion date to the Kaisers. Adolf Hitler ended them, but they were reintroduced after World War II by the Christian Democratic party under Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. This party receives heavy support from West Germany's Catholics. The Catholic Church favors the separate schools.

One-third of the expenses of all grade schools are paid by local communities, which own the buildings. The other two-thirds of the money comes from the states, which appoint the principals and teachers and supervise administration.

Children in all the states start the school day with a prayer, hymn, or Bible reading. All grade schools offer two to four hours a week of religious instruction, either Protestant or Catholic or both. Attendance is voluntary, and about 6 percent of the children stay away.

Although West Germany is divided about equally between Catholics and Protestants, Catholic grade schools far outnumber the Protestant grade schools. There are 1,925,145 Catholic children in such schools and 820,074 Protestant children.

Service in securing sites along the river where tourists can stop and enjoy its beauty.

The proposed site is near the Mississippi River bridges connecting Memphis and West Memphis.

Hopefield was described to the commission as "once a brawling river town that was burned by federal troops in 1863."

To establish the park, it would be necessary to deed at least an 80-acre tract to the state.

Would Trade More Consumer Goods
NEW YORK (AP) — Keith Fuston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, says the United States should trade consumer goods with the Russians "if we get cash on the barrel head or its equivalent."

Fuston and several other American business leaders returned to New York Thursday night from the Soviet Union, where they talked with Premier Khrushchev.

"The Soviets don't have very many goods that we want," Fuston told newsmen. "We should sell them consumer goods. If we can get their gold in return they will not be able to use it to stir up trouble in the rest of the world."

Ann Kenyon: Surgeon

Brill was waiting when she returned to the office that in a few days no longer would belong to her.

"Scotlin was in a few minutes ago," Brill added with a dry chuckle. "One would think you were just back from a space hospital halfway to Andromeda."

"I've been to see Bobby Hiram."

Something flickered in Brill's eyes. "Somebody had better warn Karmeleni you're checking up on him."

Ann put down the stir of disapproval for Brill's attitude. "He was there."

"And the scalpel is in my scapula?"

"You know better than that, Brill. I am not going to ask you what happened, Brill," she said quietly. "The operation was a success, Bobby Hiram is going to be like any other 12-year-old boy." So who am I to ask questions? She did not finish. Brill would hoot at that. "I thought you might take me to dinner?"

"Okay, okay," irritably. But the grin that followed the words belonged to the old Brill. "If you promise not to sing one note in praise of McDonnell and that two-bit hospital."

Relieved, Ann promised, but it was a futile vow. Perhaps not Peter, but Leddie Memorial Hospital was between them now, as it had been between them from the first moment. Ann had felt herself becoming a part of the small, poorly equipped hospital — even before, she realized now, Helen Leddie had offered her a job.

Ann met Brill's silent accusation with a smile. "I'm sorry. I was — thinking."

"About McDonnell." It was not a question.

She shook her head. "I was not thinking about Peter, Brill. I was thinking about you — you — and about Dr. Lyle."

"Thanks for the compliment."

"It is one, the manner in which I was comparing — rather, contrasting you." She told him about Dr. Lyle's influence on Helen Leddie, Dave Clyde's suspicions about the prominent surgeon's too frequent operations.

Brill took her hand. "Let McDonnell and Clyde tilt at their own windmills, my darling."

"They're my windmills too, now, Brill."

He let go her hand. "You really mean that, don't you, Ann?" His eyes searched hers. "It's all over — between us?"

She nodded, unable to speak.

The few days that Ann remained in Rocky Head went by in a many-faceted blur. When she was back in Leddie she would emerge from her subconscious as a kaleidoscope of memories — seeing Brill and trying to believe he didn't hate her; Dr. Scotlin's "We're going to miss you, Ann," and the long hours when the train could not go fast enough.

Texas, Navy in Cotton Bowl Seems Likely

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Everything is big deep in the heart of Texas, they say. And the Lone Star state seems to be coming up with the biggest college football bowl game New Year's Day.

That would be Texas vs Navy in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, pitting the No. 1 and No. 2 nationally ranked eleven against each other. The mighty Longhorns already are in, but Army might put a crimp in the hopes of the Cotton Bowl officials by upsetting the Middies in their traditional service game at Philadelphia Nov. 30. At this writing that is doubtful.

Texas kept its status as the nation's only major unbeaten and untied team by beating Texas Christian 17-0 last Saturday, leaving just Texas A&M barring the way to a perfect 10-0-0 regular season for the Longhorns.

Once-beaten Navy kept pace by taking Duke 38-25 for its eighth victory. All the other teams in The Associated Press top ten also won on a generally formful Saturday. UCLA, Kentucky and Wake Forest supplied the only major surprises.

UCLA, winner of only one previous game, dealt the Washington Huskies a stunning 14-0 defeat dimming Washington's hopes to play in the Rose Bowl. Halfback Byron Nelson scored both UCLA TD's.

The Wake Forest Deacons came through with a 20-19 victory over South Carolina on Brian Piccolo's conversion and thus ended the longest major losing streak at 18 games. Kentucky upset Baylor 9-7.

Mississippi, No. 3 ranked in the nation, whipped Tennessee 20-0; Michigan State, No. 4 took Notre Dame 12-7; Oklahoma No. 5 beat Missouri 13-3; Pitt, No. 6 drubbed Army 28-0; Alabama, No. 7, defeated Georgia Tech 27-11; Illinois, No. 8, out-fought Wisconsin 17-7; Auburn, No. 9, downed Georgia 14-0 and Nebraska, No. 10, edged Oklahoma State 20-16.

In some of the other major games Oregon pulled out a 28-22 victory over Indiana in the last 11 seconds; Princeton thumped Yale 27-7; Dartmouth edged Cornell 12-7; Harvard downed Brown 24-12; Northwestern whipped Ohio State 17-8; Purdue nipped Minnesota 13-11; Michigan and Iowa tied 21-21.

Penn State took Holy Cross 28-14; Southern Methodist defeated Arkansas 14-7; Texas A&M bested Rice 13-6; Washington State beat Stanford 32-15; California took Utah 35-22; North Carolina whipped Miami of Florida 27-16; Mississippi State edged Louisiana State 7-6 and Memphis State stayed on top of the major independents by defeating Chattanooga 13-0.

Another field goal by stocking-footed Tony Crosby helped Texas to defeat TCU. Roger Staubach, Navy's all-around back, ran 12 times for 72 yards and threw 14 passes for 122 yards, but it took John Sai's 93-yard run in the closing minutes to stave off Duke.

Another long run, this one for 85 yards by little 152-pounder Sherman Lewis in the last quarter, put Michigan State over the top against Notre Dame.

The Bruins of UCLA astonished a Los Angeles turnout of 30,396 by bottling up Junior Coffey. Washington's hard running fullback, Quarterback Steve Sindell, a third stringer until Saturday, guided the UCLA scoring series. He passed to Nelson for one TD and helped set up the other which came on Larry Zeno's pass to Nelson.

35-Point Buck Killed by Eugene Harris of Saratoga

EUGENE HARRIS OF SARATOGA AND 35-POINT BUCK which he killed Saturday, photographed Saturday night at Hope Police Station.
MR. HARRIS WAS ON A DEER STAND NEAR CROSSROADS when the buck came out of the woods as a clean target for his shotgun. Sheriff Jimmie Griffin, who was at the police station when the deer was reported in, estimated it weighed between 250 and 275 pounds.

Henderson, A&M Post Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas A&M triumphed over Southern State 28-0 in Monticello Saturday night and the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference turned its eye to Thanksgiving Day to see if the Aggies get the AIC crown all to themselves.

The victory over the Mule Riders assured A&M at least a tie for the championship.

Henderson's dauntless Reddies can get half of it, too, if they beat cross-town rival Ouachita in Arkadelphia on Thanksgiving Day.

The Bollweevils and all AIC teams except Henderson and Ouachita wound up their seasons last week. A&M finished with a 9-1 record the best in the school's history. The Aggies have not won the AIC football title since 1958.

Arkansas Tech crushed Ozarks 20-0 and Ouachita plowed through millsaps in their games Saturday night.

Halfback E. P. Blackburn raced 85 yards on a punt return for the first A&M touchdown. Carl Preston went 10 for a score and Dale Boutwell scooped five yards for another touchdown.

Ouachita got touchdowns from Robert McGlothlin and Paul Rogers on runs and also struck for scores on passes to Jimmy Jackson twice to Jack Mills and to Billy Hargis.

Sonny Zackery kicked two field goals, halfback Jerry Dickinson went for one touchdown and fullback Tommy Parker for another in the Tech victory.

Idle Bobcats Cling to the No. 9 Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pine Bluff, heading home, continues to lead the Associated Press Arkansas high school football poll, and Fort Smith, apparently shut out of a chance for the Big Ten Conference title, is second.

The Zebras have only Hot Springs left as a conference foe and lead the Big Ten standings. Hot Springs has not won a conference game.

Pine Bluff and Fort Smith ranked 1-2 the past few weeks, and the Zebras continued to draw all first place votes from the board of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Texarkana retained third place but not by the solid margin it had last week. The Razorbacks were rated fourth on one ballot. Little Rock Hall got that vote, and was the fourth-place team.

North Little Rock, Little Rock Central, Blytheville and El Dorado followed, with Region 4A Hope ninth and Region 2AA West Memphis 10th.

Results of the poll, with first place votes in parenthesis and total points at right:

Champion Texans Get a Day Off

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The second Texas team to win nine in a row and the first to reach the last game of the season in position to take the national championship got today off.

Not only that, but the Longhorns will have Tuesday off, too. Weariness from having to win over five tough foes in succession in order to clinch a straight appearance in the Cotton Bowl prompted the vacation.

If Texas wasn't well stocked with manpower, there might be another story being told today as the Longhorns look toward Thanksgiving Day and the final test of the season against bitter rival Texas A&M. The Longhorns hope to become the first undefeated, untied team in the Southwest Conference in 25 years.

Three top men—end Knox Nunnally, tackle Ken Ferguson and fullback Harold Phillip—were out of action as Texas beat Texas Christian, 17-0, Saturday. But you would never have known they were away as Darrell Royal sent his reserves into battle. Sophomores Phil Harris, Tom Stockton and Tommy Nobis starred.

Another thing was noticeable, too. Texas Christian stopped the Texas power sweep that has been so devastating. So Texas just went to the fullback drive, pitchout to the wingback and the revised option.

That's the secret of the Texas team's success and why it has been No. 1 in the nation for five straight weeks. It is versatile, it has enough men to make anything work.

The Long Horns weren't think in much about the Cotton Bowl — just the Aggies, who aren't going anywhere themselves, but sure would like to have a voice in where Texas is going.

The Bears took care of the first with a crushing ground game that outgained the Packers 248 yards to 71. On the second, they intercepted five Packers passes and recovered two fumbles.

The result was a 26-7 Chicago victory that put the Bears alone on top in the West with a 9-1 record. The Packers are 8-2, with both losses coming at the hands of the Bears. There are four games left.

In the East, the New York Giants trampled San Francisco's futile 49ers 48-14 to take over first place in the East with an 8-2 record.

The St. Louis Cardinals dumped the slumping Cleveland Browns out of a tie with the Giants. The Cards and Browns are tied for second with 7-3 records.

The Giants meet the Cards at New York next Sunday.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, hobbled with a hard-luck early season tie, kept their title hopes alive with a late touchdown and a 34-28 victory over the Washington Redskins. The Steelers are 6-3-1.

In other NFL games, Baltimore skinned past Minnesota 37-3 on a touchdown in the last five seconds, the Los Angeles Rams upset the Detroit Lions 28-21, and the Dallas Cowboys edged the Philadelphia Eagles 27-20.

In the American Football League, San Diego stopped the Buffalo Bills 23-13, the New York Jets tripped Denver 14-9 and Kansas City and Boston played a 24-24 tie. Houston and Oakland were idle.

The Bears showed 49,166 home fans right away that they were loaded for Packers. They took a 13-0 lead in the first period before permitting Green Bay to make a first down.

Two field goals by Roger LeClerc and a 27-yard touchdown on a twisting run by Willie Galtmore built the lead. LeClerc kicked two more in the second half, and quarterback Bill Wake, who moved the team beautifully, scored a touchdown. Packer Coach Vince Lombardi said afterwards that the Bears were a better team than the one that whipped Green Bay 10-3 in the opener. He said his team was a little better, too.

Last time they held us to a ment with smoke. The British actor-playwright-author had to crawl on hands and knees from his bedroom to the corridor.

Pettit Leads Hawks Over Los Angeles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An overnight trip from St. Louis didn't faze the veteran Bob Pettit and the Hawks took over undisputed leadership in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association by whipping Los Angeles Sunday, 117-112.

The Hawks had tied the Lakers with an uphill 115-112 victory over Baltimore in St. Louis Saturday night. The quick trip to the Pacific Coast didn't keep Pettit from scoring 33 points and crossing the 8,000 point plateau. Pettit now has a career total of 18,015 points, second only to the 39,115 by Dolph Schayes, coach of the Philadelphia 76ers.

San Francisco drubbed Detroit, 120-96, and Cincinnati edged Baltimore, 110-109, in Sunday's other NBA games. In addition to the Hawks win over Baltimore, New York downed Cincinnati, 122-114, and Los Angeles took Detroit, 115-95, in other Saturday night games.

A fast break also helped the Hawks down the Lakers in their battle for first place. The Lakers took an early lead, but Pettit led the Hawks to a 77-66 lead and they stayed in front. Elgin Baylor was high for Los Angeles with 30 points.

No games are scheduled tonight.

Among other reasons listed by Pettit for the smaller kill was the fact that last year during the November period does could be taken in several counties as well as the vast White River National Wildlife Refuge. This year does could be killed only in the Refuge.

Purvis said many hunters probably canceled vacations set aside for the first deer hunting period when all hunting was banned in the state because of critically dry forests.

He predicts a larger turnout of hunters, with a resulting larger kill, during the second hunting period which is from Dec. 9 through Dec. 14. Asked if there was a chance hunting would be again banned, Purvis said, "It's too far away to say."

During the third period from Dec. 28 to Jan. 1 any deer may be killed in 22 counties and parts of two others, while in other areas open to hunting, only bucks may be taken.

One indicator Purvis used for the reduced kill this year comes from the White River Refuge. He said last year during the November hunt 3,400 kills were reported, while based on the number of kills reported up to late Saturday, the total in the Refuge this time would be about 2,000.

It will take at least 10 days from the end of the period until all the county checking stations get their completed reports on deer kills to the commission, Purvis said.

There all hunters, under the age of 40, lost their lives during the period.

Roy Hicks, 37, of the Dodge City Community in Union County was killed last Monday by a shotgun blast fired by his 72-year-old uncle, C. W. Hicks. The uncle thought he was firing at a deer.

Thursday, William Beaty, 24, of Memphis was killed when he apparently fell while climbing a tree, causing his shotgun to discharge into his abdomen. He was hunting near Snow Lake in Desha County.

On the last day of the period, Saturday, a 16-year-old boy was killed as he sat in a chair waiting to spot a deer. Raymond Lockridge of Camden died with a head wound from a 30-30 bullet fired by another hunter "at least one-fourth of a mile away," according to Ouachita County Deputy Coroner Jack Barger.

All three deaths were ruled accidental.

field goal. This time we got a touchdown," he said smiling through the bruises.

The Green Bay coach said he would like to try one more time against the Bears, he could get his chance in a playoff, since the Bears meet the tough Steelers next week.

The Giants' 49ers game looked like a mismatch. The Giant had a little trouble getting started, but the 49ers never got going at all.

Dry Weather Slows State Deer Kills

By ALVIN SCHAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

The state's dry weather apparently put a big dent in the number of deer killed during 1963's first hunting period.

George Purvis, chief of the state Game and Fish Commission's division of information and education, estimated Saturday at the close of the six-day period that only about 10,000 to 12,800 deer had been killed. This is in comparison to a record kill of 19,122 during the November period last year.

Hunters were unable to use dogs very effectively, Purvis said, adding that the ground was so dry after the sun came up that all the dogs "could sniff was dust."

Purvis said many hunters probably canceled vacations set aside for the first deer hunting period when all hunting was banned in the state because of critically dry forests.

He predicts a larger turnout of hunters, with a resulting larger kill, during the second hunting period which is from Dec. 9 through Dec. 14. Asked if there was a chance hunting would be again banned, Purvis said, "It's too far away to say."

SMU Defeats Hogs, Rice Is Upset

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas has wrapped up a third straight appearance in the Cotton Bowl and a certain tie for the Southwest Conference football championship. It's possible that the Longhorns can win it all this week while resting and letting the other teams do their work for them.

Particularly is this true in the case of Southern Methodist, an outfit that tried mightily hard to knock Texas out of its honors and now is in a position to do the Longhorns a good turn.

Southern Methodist plays Baylor at Waco Saturday. If it could beat the Golden Bears then Texas game with Texas A&M at College Station on Thanksgiving Day would have no meaning in the championship race.

Texas has a 6-0 record in the conference. Baylor is second with 4-1 and all other teams are out of contention. Should Baylor fall to the Methodists, Texas would get a clear claim to this title.

It seems quite possible, too. Southern Methodist played a spirited game in knocking over Arkansas 14-7 last week while Baylor obviously flat from its heroic but dateful effort against Texas, was beaten by sophomoreish Kentucky 19-7 in an inter-sectional game.

Texas told the jinx that has ridden with Texas Christian when TCU met a Longhorn team riding in the nation Texas whaled the Horned Frogs 17-0 for its ninth straight victory.

If Texas should beat Texas A&M it would have its second undefeated, untied team in 44 years, and the first to win 10 straight games. The last Longhorn team with a perfect record was the 1920 outfit that played only nine games.

Rice was shuttled out of the race Saturday when it was upset 13-6 by lowly Texas A&M. The Owls now are 3-2 and cannot even share the title if they won the rest of their games.

Texas Tech brought its season record to 5-4 as it beat former Border Conference colleague Teras Western 7-3.

Tech meets Arkansas at Fayetteville Saturday to close the season and from the way Arkansas played against SMU it would appear the Red Raiders have a good chance of winding up with a 6-4 record.

Rice and Texas Christian play at Fort Worth in the other game on the skimpy Saturday schedule. Texas and Texas A&M take off until Thanksgiving Day.

The Green Bay coach said he would like to try one more time against the Bears, he could get his chance in a playoff, since the Bears meet the tough Steelers next week.

The Giants' 49ers game looked like a mismatch. The Giant had a little trouble getting started, but the 49ers never got going at all.

Meanwhile, back at the American Football League ranch. . . While most pro football fans were interested in the Chicago Bears-Green Bay Packers National Football League clash, a record crowd of 38,592 turned out at Buffalo Sunday for the top game in the AFL.

San Diego thwarted the Bills, who were bidding for a fourth straight triumph, 23-13.

The New York Jets ended their losing slide by beating the Denver Broncos, 14-9, and the Kansas City Chiefs, who had lost five straight, held the Boston Patriots to a 24-24 tie in Sunday's other AFL games. Houston and Oakland were idle.

Chicago beat Green Bay, 26 and St. Louis surprised Cleveland, 20-14, in the top two NFL games. In the others New York thumped San Francisco, 48-14, Los Angeles downed Detroit, 28-21, Baltimore nipped Minnesota, 37-34, Dallas defeated Philadelphia, 27-20 and Pittsburgh took Washington, 34-28.

The record turnout at Buffalo, which exceeded the previous high of 37,981 at Houston last Dec. 23, saw the Chargers win on a 17-yard pass from Tobin Rote to Lance Alworth in the third period. The TD broke a 10-10 halftime tie and upped the season record of the Western Division leaders to 8-2.

Cookie Gilchrist put the Bills ahead early in the game on a plunge from the one, but the Chargers soon tied on Keith Lincoln's 55-yard run. George Blair and Mack Zoh exchanged field goals before the half ended to set the stage for Rote's winning heave to Alworth. Blair later booted two more field goals and Yoho one.

Dick Wood, cast off by the Broncos during the training season, threw two touchdown passes in the second period for New York's victory before 14
